TELLS ABOUT
DINNER GIVEN
BY THE PRINCE

Lieut.-Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., D.S.O., M.P.P., who attended the dinner in London tendered by the Prince of Wales to V.C.'s from all parts of the world, returned by airplane on Saturday from Vancouver, flying low directly over the Review office in Sidney on his way to Victoria to be the honored guest of the Gyro Club at their luncheon in the Empress Hotel and where he told of the wonderful function.

"It was a great dinner," Col. Peck said simply, "Perhaps no dinner in the world has ever gained such notice. It caught the imagination of the world."

"We realized what it was to feel the generosity of nations and to enjoy the hospitality of the British Empire," he said.

At the outset of his talk, which was delivered in an informal and interesting manner, Col. Peck said how glad he was to be back in British Columbia—"God's country," he termed it.

DISTINCTIVE DECORATION

Although, he said, it was hard to speak about the Victoria Cross when one was a holder of this enviable decoration, Col. Peck discussed its origination by Queen Victoria. It was probably the most distinctive decoration in the world, and strangely enough, even a man like Napoleon, one of the greatest military geniuses that ever lived and one who conceived decorations which appeared widely to the imagination, did not create an honor of this sort.

"Some people seem to think that a V.C. is a kind of a of a demi-god. It is not always easy for V.C.'s to tolerate this attitude.
And I can assure you we are not different from other men."

TIPIFY GALLANTRY

He pointed out that there were probably many men who deserved this coveted honor but did not get it.
We therefore feel that we only tipify the gallantry of His Majesty's forces," he remarked.

Turning to the memorable dinner in London, Col. Peck referred first to the wonderful generosity and hospitality of the empire.

"As far as I was concerned there was first the hospitality of the Provincial Government, then of the Washington-Alaska Airways Limited, by whose route I traveled to Vancouver."

FREE TRANSPORTATION

"Transportation to the Atlantic was provided by the great railway companies of Canada. Across the ocean we traveled through the wonderful courtesy of Empire steamship lines. And there was nothing extraordinary about it. We traveled in exquisite first-class staterooms and were every way gratified."

"The mayor and council received us at Southampton. Thence our transportation was provided to London where the honors were done on our behalf. The buses, theatres, concerts and places of entertainment treated us wonderfully."

SIDNEY LOCALS AND PERSONALS

The monthly meeting of the S.
Andrew's and Holy Trinity Branch of the Women's Auxiliary will take place at the home of Mrs. Matthews on Wednesday, Dec. 18th, at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. George John and family moved last week from East Road to the house on Queen's Ave. recently vacated by F. Ricketts and family.

After having summer weather right up to the beginning of December the weatherman suddenly took the notion to show some real signs of winter and handed out a small snow-storm, commencing Monday night and continuing all day Tuesday. The snow is all gone now, except for a few neighboring mountain peaks, rain taking the place of snow and adding the much-needed moisture to the dry soil. It is hoped that a good rain will continue as the long dry spell has dried up a lot of wells in the rural districts and also lowered the supply of water of the Sidney Water and Power Co. to such an extent that notices to consumers had been mailed advising the lowering of their wells. The dry spell on the entire Pacific Coast has been of a very serious nature to power companies in large centres.

The regular meeting of the Young People's Society took place last Tuesday evening, much business being transacted. Owing to the inclement weather the speaker for the evening, Mr. Wm. Speed, of Victoria, could not be present.

Mr. James Brydson, of the National Motors, Victoria, is now stationed in Sidney as local salesman, residing at the home of Mrs. George Brethour, Fourth Street. Mr. Brydson is recently from Saskatoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrie Higgs and small daughter left this week to make their home in Victoria. Mr. Higgs having secured a position with the Provincial Government in the motor license department.

Mrs. Jackson has returned to her home on Marine Drive after spending a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. Jost, at Britannia Beach.

At the recital of the Columbia School of Music held recently in Victoria outstanding musicianship was demonstrated by two girls of this district, Miss Gertrude Straight and Miss Kathleen Lowe, at the piano.

Mrs. Burton and two small sons left recently for Vancouver, where they will join Mr. Burton and where they will make their home in the future.

Mr. Stewart Hill returned to his home in Sidney after spending the past several months in Seattle.

Prize-Winning Essays

The essays on the subject "My Garden and What I Learned Through the Competition," were divided into two groups, Grade VII. or over and below Grade VII. to make the contest more interesting. The editor of the Review carefully checked all essays submitted, giving due consideration to manner in which the subject was handled, neatness, composition, spelling, punctuation, knowledge gained, etc., and reproduces the winning essays here, just as received, except for writing and neatness.

By MURIEL SMITH, Grade X., winner of First Prize in group of Grade VII. or over.

Through the garden contest I have learned that in making a garden you must first of all pick out a piece of ground in which the things you are planting grow best. Do not make your garden too close to a tree, as the tree takes most of the moisture in the ground from the plants, also the roots interfere with cultivating and often become entangled with the roots of the plants.

The next thing to do is to plan your garden. Space your rows properly so that the roots do not become entangled. In a flower garden put the flowers where they look and harmonize best. When spacing your rows do not forget to account for the growth of your plants.

Next is the preparation of the ground for planting. Dig deep and take out all the sods and stones.
Rake the ground well so that the ground will be soft and therefore it will be easier for the plants to come through the ground and the roots to grow. In using fertilizer if you use manure, put it on then dig it in. If you are using bone meal it is not put on until the plants have grown a little, it is raked in and then the garden is watered to wash the fertilizer off the leaves.

The seeds are then planted, some things may be planted earlier than others. Carrots and such vegetables may be planted quite early but beans must not be planted until later. When seeds are planted, small seeds, both flowers and vegetables, should be mixed with sand. Be sure to plant things in straight rows. Do not plant peas and beans too close together as they spread a lot in growth. When you are planting bulbs be sure to put them in deep enough because they will fall over when the earth dries out and the heads become weighted.

Then after the seeds have been planted the garden has to be cultivated and weeded. Keep the ground around the plants and between the rows, as the plants can grow more easily and the moisture soaks in better. Weed the garden carefully, I especially keep grass and weeds from growing up between the plants.
Then comes thinning. In our garden carrots, lettuce, parsnips, beets and marigolds had to be thinned. Repeat thinning water the earth so the plants will come out more easily.
Then pull out as many as are needed to give the others plenty of room for growth. Only one plant should be left in each group, for when the plants are too close together they become twisted around one another and thus they become deformed.
Certain plants have to be staked, stake too near to the bulb or plant or you will bruise it.

I think the most important things I learned in the contest were: that a garden must be cultivated and watered from sowing to harvest.

By WILLIAM DAWES,
Grade VII., tied for Second Prize in group of Grade VII. or over.

I am very glad that the North Saanich Horticultural Society thought of such a grand idea as having a garden contest for the younger ones who wish some day to become expert gardeners. And I am also grateful to Mr. J. A. Nunn for arranging the work decided upon.

The first thing I did upon entering the contest was to dig up the ground and to manure it well and after a few weeks redig the whole garden. The next process was the thorough cultivation of the ground and picking out the stones.

The sowing of the seed came next and I afterwards learnt that some had been sown too deep and some not deep enough.

Cultivation was the next most important process in the gardening, the ground must be well cultivated if a successful garden is wanted.

Watering the garden is necessary, especially this year which was very dry. It is not as necessary as cultivation. But cultivation would not do without watering and watering would not do without cultivation—both are necessary. You are liable to rake the seed away if you cultivate too much before the seed comes up.

Keeping the ground weeded is quite a job. If you don't keep the ground weeded it spoils the crop and the roots.

Fertilizing the ground helps your crop along. I had a very good crop this year, thanks to the Horticultural Society which supplied the seed and fertilizer.

By FLORENCE NUNN, tied for Second Prize in group of Grade VII. or over.

Every summer, since I can remember, I have taken great delight in having a little garden of my own.
This year when I heard there was to be a contest for a "garden talk," I considered it a splendid idea.

We were given our seed, of which everyone got the same. The vegetables and six flowers. The garden wasn't to be very big, so mine was first marked off from the rest of "Dad's" garden. I prepared the soil and raked it over so it would be nice and level or flat. Next, I marked off the distances (which were given) between what was to be the rows.
Then I made the rows and started planting the seeds. I planted them except the gladioli. Those I planted later. This didn't take long and I was soon finished. Later on when I planted my gladioli, I made a little hole about six inches deep, filled it half full of sand, put in my gladioli, and covered it over.

Then I went and bought some more seed and soon the little plants came up through the ground. I picked off all the little weeds I found, and pulled up the weeds, so that the young plants would have a better chance of growing.

The plants got bigger and bigger, and it was not long before the time for picking had arrived.

The president, Mr. H. A. McKillop, read the interim report of the Port Development Committee, which showed substantial progress has been made.

On the recommendation of the executive committee the following gentlemen were admitted as members of the board: Messrs. Lemarquand, Larson, Rowse, Hearn and Bowcott. Mr. D. Sparling was admitted to fill the position of secretary of the board, made vacant by the absence of the late secretary, Mr. A. Williamson.

The board will take up at an early date the matter of the development of the park lately presented to the District of North Saanich by Mr. John Dean of Victoria. As this is situated in one of the finest scenic positions on the Peninsula, it is felt that this should be made available to the general public.

was getting quite excited and took special care of my garden. Time wore on, and it was now the day for judging.

The gardens were judged and we had to wait until the day of the Flower Show, which was held at the Agricultural Hall at Saanichton, on Dec. 15, 1929, before we knew the results. Every contestant received a prize which I thought was a very encouraging idea for beginners.

I tried hard for first prize, and although I did not succeed, I came in with a close second. I also received a special prize for the best girl's garden.

I thought it very nice of the Horticultural Society to take the time and trouble of putting on such a nice competition for us, and awarding us such splendid prizes.

I appealed to me that the contest was a wonderful example of Good Sportsmanship. Every boy and girl knew that someone was going to get the first prize, and they also knew that they all couldn't get it, so they just tried their best, and although they didn't get first prize, there was not much difference in the points of each one.

By GORDON SMITH,

Grade VI., winner of First Prize in group under Grade VII.

When you are laying out the plans for your garden do not put it too near a fence or a tree. When it is near a fence you are not able to get a cultivator of any size in for the fence, and with a tree there are the roots which make it impossible to cultivate deep or you will hit the roots and break the blades of the cultivator.

When you are digging up the ground or breaking it in, dig deep that is why I had my things fail. When you are raking try and get every rock off because they spoil the of the plants. When you are raking rake back and forth because otherwise you will take all the loose earth and not leave earth for things to grow in and the ground will be very hard.

When you use manure as a fertilizer first put it on and then dig it in and when you have bone-meal put it on and then rake it and water what you have done and don't put it on and not rake it in.

The seed are in order for the vegetables and the first is carrots and should be put fifteen inches between it and beets the same with lettuce parsnips and twenty four inches between parsnips and peas. For the flowers first comes cosmos and fifteen inches between cosmos and mignonette and the same with nasturtiums, pinks, and marigolds and twenty-four inches between marigolds and gladioli.

Cultivate quite deep that was my fault in the contest. If you are watering every night or day do not water just the leaves but at the roots.

When weeding try and get every weed out by the root and every one.

Don't let grass or other weeds grow. When you are staking try not to bruise the bulb or plant.

When thinning do it quite as often as it is needed and leave a good space between each one and don't let about ten grow together. When you thinning take out some of the smaller ones and leave the bigger ones to grow. Before you start thinning always water before because most likely the ground will be hard and dry.

By JOHN GURTON,

Grade V., winner of Second Prize in group under Grade VII.

First I learned how far apart the vegetables had to be and how far apart the flowers had to be. Then I learned how to weed and single the plants out, and how to keep them growing with fertilizer and lots of water. My flowers were very pretty when they were in bloom. My gladioli especially.

My vegetable garden looked very nice but I have a lot to learn yet. I have learned that some vegetables should go in before another (example) the beans. I learned that parsnips and carrots need deep digging. The peas too have to be put in quite deep.

Service kept on while apparatus took trip

While amplifying apparatus, which plays an important part in the long-distance telephone system, was being moved from the old to the new telephone building at Chilliwack, it was kept in service, and two long-distance conversations, one between Vancouver and Calgary and one between Vancouver and Porticton, were conducted via the equipment during the hour and a half it was in transit.

This was made possible through careful preparation and handling by the telephone men responsible for the move. Weighing nearly a ton, the equipment was pushed, pulled and carried by the men from the one office to the other, after wires had been strung to connect it to the new building.

TELLS ABOUT DINNER GIVEN BY THE PRINCE

hubbub and talking over previous wars, but very interesting. "Outstanding of the events at dinner was the great ovation given the Prince of Wales when he rose to speak. For heartiness and length it was the greatest ovation I have seen given to anyone. As cheers subsided they were renewed time and time again, until finally the Prince was allowed to deliver his address, which was extremely interesting."

MEMORIAL SERVICE
Col. Peck referred to the memorial service at Albert Hall and the cenotaph, attended by hundreds of thousands of people. As this vast throng observed two minutes of silence, it was a most impressive sight, he said. Following the dinner, Col. Peck visited Scotland before returning to his home. He described the Scottish war memorial at Edinburgh as a magnificent tribute to the Scottish nation to the memory of its glorious dead.

"I also had the pleasure of spending some time with the Prince and he seems to me a man who possesses in a high degree the inherent genius of the royal House of Windsor," said the colonel. He has a warm affection for the people of Canada and is deeply interested in their welfare."

In conclusion, Col. Peck reiterated his expression of tribute for the hospitality of the British Empire which he had enjoyed.

Col. Peck was introduced by Major H. C. Holmes, who referred to the founding of the Victoria Cross 72 years ago and to the fact that out of the millions who have served with the British forces only about 1,500 had achieved the distinction.

HORTICULTURE SUBJECTS ARE DISCUSSED

The monthly meeting of the North Saanich Horticultural Society was held in Wesley Hall on Thursday evening with a good attendance of members. The president, Mr. L. E. Taylor, occupied the chair. Mr. E. W. Watt, who spoke briefly on the topic of "General Gardening" proved most interesting.

Mr. W. Downs, provincial entomologist, was introduced and gave an instructive talk on "Insects."

Mr. J. A. Nunn reported on the essays on the subject of "My Garden and What I Learned Through the Competition," written by the children who entered the garden contest. The prize-winning essays appear in this issue of the Review. Mr. Nunn spoke a few words in regards to what the society is doing to encourage gardening among the children.

The competition for the meeting was a collection of colored leaves and berries, the first prize being presented to Mrs. J. T. Harrison, and second to Mr. J. A. Nunn.

A standing vote of sympathy was passed to Mrs. Ellis and family in their sad bereavement.

It was decided to hold an executive meeting at the home of Mrs. E. Hammond, East Road, on Tuesday evening.

I.O.D.E. TEA WAS SUCCESSFUL EVENT MONDAY

In spite of the sudden change of weather a large number turned out on Monday afternoon to the I.O.D.E. silver tea held in Wesley Hall. The musical selections which were played by the Resolution Chapter Trio were much enjoyed, the artists taking part being Mrs. Hebdon Gillespie, pianist; Miss Wilkinson, violinist, and Mrs. S. Oliver, soloist. On this occasion, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, president of the Provincial Chapter, I.O.D.E., was the guest of honor.

The lucky winners of the various articles were: The Christmas cake, Mrs. Layard, sr.; the lovely water sketch, Mrs. Shilling; the doll, Mrs. W. Cowell; the beautiful lace handkerchief, Miss Wilkinson, and the Chinese basket, Mrs. McIlraith.

Fortunes were also told during the afternoon by Mrs. Bob Harvey, regent of the H.M.S. Resolution Chapter.

Those in charge of the different stalls were: Home-cooking, Mrs. Ramsay, assisted by Mrs. Straight; the Christmas tree, Mrs. Bowman, while Mrs. Grasse and Mrs. Herchmer poured tea.

The tidy sum of $70.00 was realized by the members of the I.O.D.E. for their afternoon's work.

A Challenge to Canadian Food Producers...

Trade Commissioners' Offices in Great Britain

LONDON:

LIVERPOOL:

Harry A. Scott, Trade Commissioner, Century Buildings, 31 North John Street, Liverpool, England.

BRISTOL:

GLASGOW:

GREAT BRITAIN wants more Canadian foodstuffs. The plain fact is that the increase in trade in some of our food exports to the old country is not keeping pace with the growth of demand.

Britain's markets are wide open to Canada. Because of the exhibitions of Canadian products, the activity of our Trade Commissioners, and the effects of our advertising, the British consumer is more familiar with these products than ever before, and consequently more inclined to buy. Good will in Great Britain towards Canadian products never has been at a higher point than now. All the facilities of transportation for all classes of products from Canada to Great Britain have been provided.

Shall we Canadians overlook or neglect the opportunities for increased export trade which are thus laid before us?

Just because domestic markets are good, shall we as producers be so short-sighted as to fail to satisfy so large a market which is more favourably inclined towards our products than ever before?

Not yet is there among our producers an adequate realization of the opportunities for increased production which present conditions in the British markets afford.

If you are a producer or dealer in foodstuffs, you can assist to your own profit in gaining a larger share of this market. Almost every community in this country stands to benefit. The result can be attained by:

1. Producing more of the kind of products the British consumer wants.
2. Keeping up a constant supply.
3. Maintaining quality standards.

Through its Commercial Intelligence Service, this Department will render valuable assistance to any exporter. Our Trade Commissioners' Offices in Britain are especially well-equipped and strategically placed to handle any export problem on behalf of Canadian exporters. Enquiries regarding British Trade receive prompt attention. Write to the Commercial Intelligence Service, Ottawa.
